Dear Tom,

We are writing to you to express our pleasure with the superior work performed by our construction supervisor, Tom Dutton. Although we did not have the opportunity to work with any of the other construction supervisors, they must pale in comparison to Tom's performance. Mr. Dutton is the most dedicated, conscientious, skilled, and customer focused professional we have met. His commitment to delivering a top quality home and his customer focus are a valuable asset to LifeStyle Homes. He made us feel that the customer truly came first.

We went into our home building experience with great trepidation since we do not live in the immediate area. What could have been a harrowing, stressful experience became smooth, easy, and enjoyable under Tom's direction. On numerous occasions, he answered our questions and calmed our fears with his timely responses, he clarified details, and his insight on building a top-notch home is amazing. He did an outstanding job of meeting the company's requirements, but he also exceeded our expectations. Not only did Tom's performance impress us, but our relatives who live on the island and took pictures for us on a daily basis as well as our new neighbors confided in us that they were impressed with the manner in which Tom managed all aspects of construction. They told us, "Tom would get right in there and work side-by-side with the workers to make sure the job met his high standards." We applaud anyone who is not above rolling up their sleeves and performing the work they expect others to do. This is a trait of a true leader.

Tom's expertise, commitment, determination, and people skills will serve the company well in the future. He was able to look after the interests of both LifeStyle Homes as well as the home buyer thus ensuring a successful business transaction. Tom went out of his way to keep us in the loop, ensure we had access to the house on a weekend, make changes to the plans (we changed the concrete driveway to pavers) as we requested, and even planted a palm for the landscaper to ensure our house was ready for us. Tom's work should be recognized by LifeStyle Homes as his construction supervision skills are outstanding. He is a shining light, a model for others, and a truly valuable asset to LifeStyle Homes. We firmly believe that we would not have had such an amazing experience if Tom Dutton were not our construction supervisor and we highly recommend that he be recognized for his valuable contribution to LifeStyle Homes.

Because of our experience with Tom Dutton, we will recommend LifeStyle Homes whenever we can. We would be happy to be a reference for LifeStyle Homes should any potential buyers want to talk to a LifeStyle Home owner.

Sincerely,

Gary & Pam Matuschek
